DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 20, 23-28, 30, 32, and 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 20, 30, 32, and 36 are drawn to an improper Markush practice by the recitation of "selected from..." and "selected from the group consisting of...or...". The recitations render the claims indefinite.

Claims 23-28 recite "in particular". The recitation of a particular embodiment in a claim as recited renders the claim indefinite.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 20-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Otera et al 6,114,496; EP 0 419 254; and Durand et al.

The cited prior arts disclose catalyst compositions which are used for the preparation of polyesters. The catalysts comprise organotin together with heteroatoms. The prior art catalysts have features and characteristics as claimed.

4. Claims 1-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by OTTO et al 2003/0018160.

This prior art discloses composition and process for manufacturing polyester in the presence of catalytic composition having features and characteristics as claimed. See page 1, paragraphs [0015]-[0021].

5. Other references listed on PTO-1449 have been made part of the record.
